

This series was developed in an adult literacy program for our own use because we needed materials that were age-appropriate for adults at early literacy levels. It includes 5 separate workbooks. The illustrations and content reflect adults' interests. There are many task-based activities.

The activities include:

- instructions
- detailed teaching strategies
- ideas to extend the learning
- answers

The materials are flexible enough to be used by new tutors or experienced literacy practitioners in groups, or one-on-one and adapted to different learning styles and interests.

Each workbook includes:

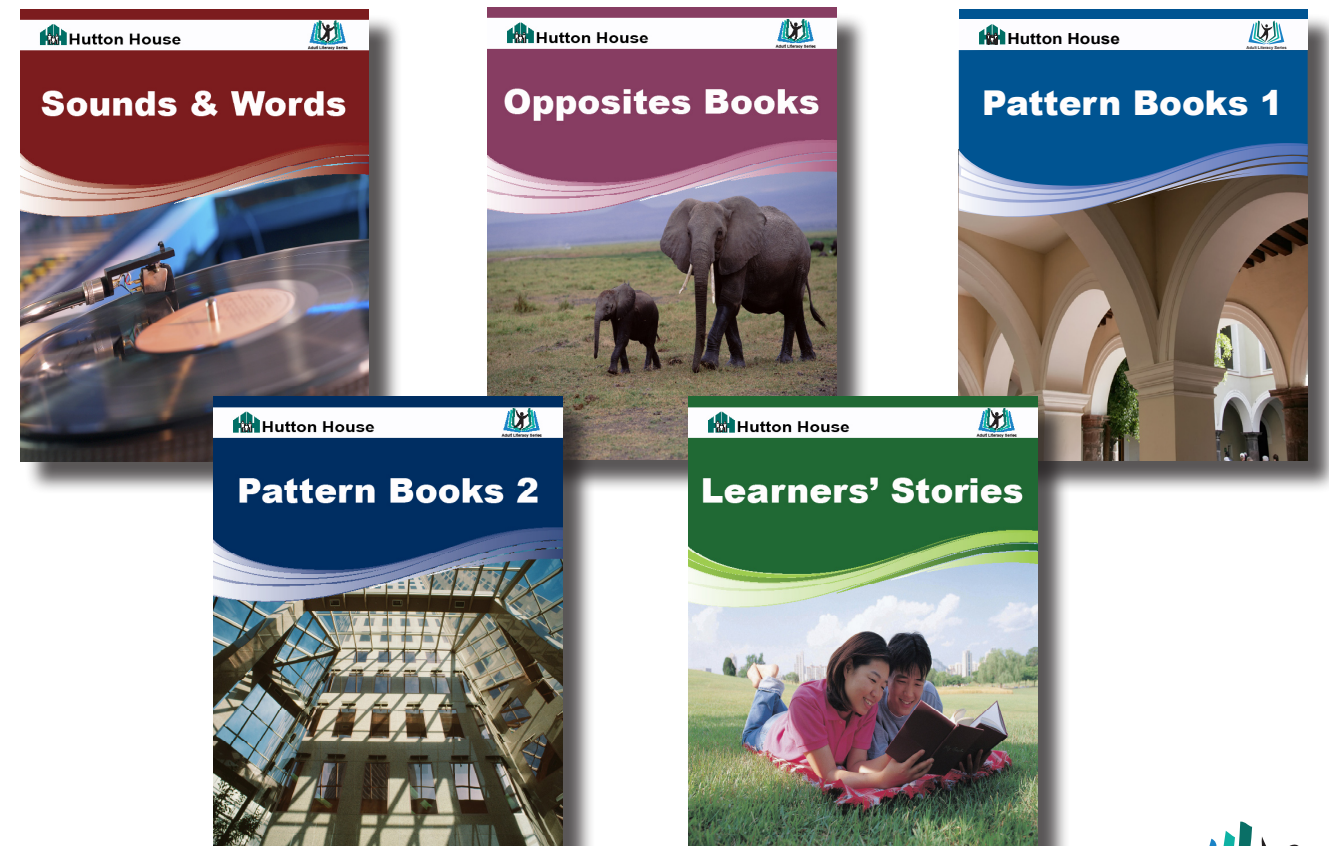

- reproducible worksheets
- flashcards
- bingo games
- stories that can be made into separate booklets

The simple booklets increase reading success and confidence. Worksheets provide practice with a variety of skills. Bingo games and suggested activities with flashcards provide hands-on learning and an enjoyable way to practice skills.

For more information on the Hutton House Adult Literacy Series or to order resource materials, contact:

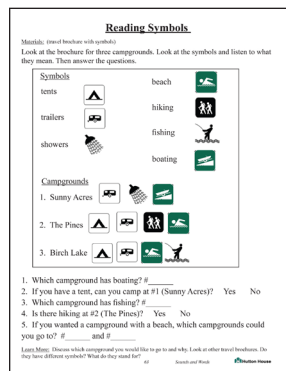

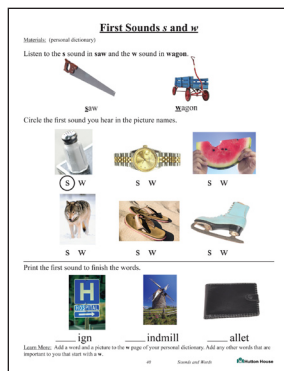

Adult Education Coordinator
Hutton House Learning Centre
Cherryhill Village Mall
301 Oxford St., West
London, ON N6H 1S6
519-472-1541 ext. 228

Adult Literacy Series

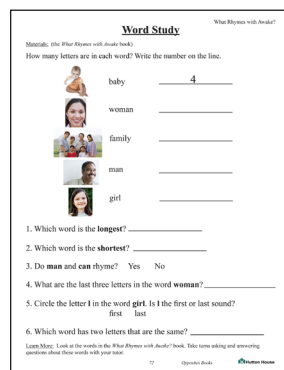

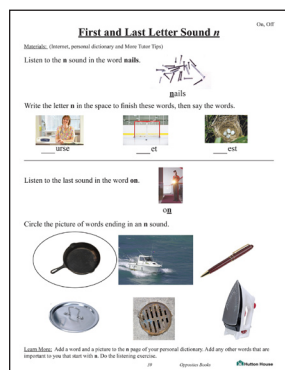

Sounds and Words Books

- For learners who are beginning to learn the letters and consonant sounds
- Introduces letters and sounds in a meaningful context with words and simple books
- Focuses on initial letter sounds and introduces middle and final consonant sounds, words and the concept of rhyming words

The Opposites Books

- For learners who know some of the letters and consonant sounds
- Encourages the use of picture clues, patterns, phonics and sight words
- Provides practice with reading, writing and consonant sounds in the context of words and simple books

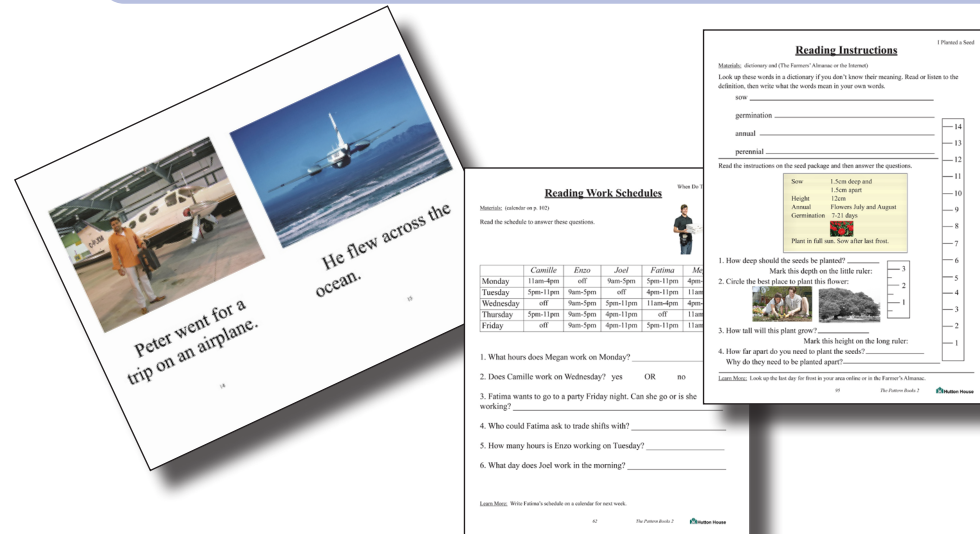

The Pattern Books 1

- For learners who know most consonant sounds, recognize some words and are starting to sound out words
- Introduces short vowel sounds, sight words and many other language skills - includes many task-based activities
- Encourages the use of sight words, picture clues, context clues and decoding strategies to be able to find information and understand a variety of printed materials

The Pattern Books 2

- For learners who know many common sight words and can sound out many one-syllable short vowel words
- Introduces long vowels, more sight words and many other language skills - includes many task-based activities
- Encourages the use of sight words, picture clues, context clues and decoding strategies to be able to find information and understand a variety of printed materials

The Learners' Stories

- For learners who recognize common words and use basic reading strategies to read short stories
- Includes four inspiring and interesting stories which were written by learners in the Hutton House Adult Education program
- Provides reading and writing practice including work on comprehension, vocabulary, language and task-based activities

